INT. SCIENCE LAB -AFTERNOON

Devan and Brandon are sitting with Doc Mill in the lab after school.

DEVAN

Doc.

DOC MILL

Yes Dev?

DEVAN

What's behind those doors?

Two large electronic sliding steel doors lead into another area of Doc Mill's lab. A special key pad is positioned at eye-level where one must enter a special code prior to getting access to the special lab.

DOC MILL

(stuttering)

Oh, ah, that's my special lab. You need military clearance to enter.

BRANDON

Cool. You work for the government?

DOC MILL

Well, yes, you could say that. I use to a long time ago.

CELL PHONE RINGS.

Brandon pulls out his cell phone from his bookbag and answers it.

BRANDON

Hello?

(pause)

Yes.

(pause)

I'll be right out.

He closes the cell phone.

BRANDON

Mom is waiting outside. I have soccer practice tonight. I'll see you guys tomorrow.

DOC MILL

Study your math tonight.

BRANDON

I will.

DEVAN

See you...soccer fairy.

BRANDON

Later...ass.

Brandon looks at Doc Mill, then tries to cover up his bad language, finishing his statement.

BRANDON

Assonance. We are studying assonance and consonance rhymes in literature.

DOC MILL

Good try Brandon. Good-bye Brandon.

Brandon exits.

Doc Mill walks over to the double doors that lead into his secret and confidential lab. Looking back at Devan.

DOC MILL

Remember I said I would help you with your baseball skills?

Devan's eyes are wide open with excitement and intrigue.

DEVAN

Yeah.

DOC MILL

Come with me.

DEVAN

Doc. You mean I can go with you inside? The secret lab?

DOC MILL

Yes. But what you see inside, you can't tell anyone.

Doc Mill gently places his hands on Devan's shoulders and looks in his eyes.

DOC MILL

Dev, I mean no one.

Doc Mill turns and pushes several digits on the keypad. The doors slide open. Both he and Devan walk inside.

As the doors are closing.

DEVAN

Cool, this is an elevat...

A MOTOR SOUND that slowly fades.
